

ASH AND THE ENDINGS

This quintet continues to dust off nooks of psych rock, three-part harmonies and all, across their expansive alt-rock attic." –Jack Anderson, KUTX

About:

Ash and the Endings is a five-piece alternative rock band from Austin, Texas. The group explores stylings of indie, classic, and psychedelic rock with dynamic twists and turns. Ashton Chase, or "Ash", fronts the band with belting contralto vocals and swagger. Luis Meza (lead guitar) creates a Hendrix-esque wail while Conor Kelch (rhythm guitar, keys, backup vocals) grounds the group in his unexpected chord progressions. William Kody (bass, backup vocals) and Jamie Foster (drums), provide the heartbeat of the set, playing with fury and fervor. The group is known for its timing, tight performance, and three-part harmonies, and creates a sound compared to Shannon and the Clams, Fleetwood Mac, and Paramore.
